GOVERNMENT TO TAKE OVER STRIKE-BOUND PLANT ON COAST

Defeated France is Squeezed Tighter in British-Axis Vise

VICHY FLATLY DENIES NAZI TROOPS BEING MOBILIZED IN SYRIA

By the Associated Press
Torn by a conflict of faiths—one in an old ally and the other in a new order—the empire of defeated France was squeezed tighter today by the British-Axis vise.

Britain's main hope of clinging to her eastern Mediterranean base, her troop emplacements in the Bible lands, the naval strongpoints Alexandria and Cyprus and the Suez Canal itself seemed more and more to depend on the French.

The British found hope today in a press dispatch from Zurich, Switzerland, quoting a French diplomatic source as saying that Generalissimo Maximilien Weygand, commander of France's colonial forces, could guarantee the attitude of his men in North Africa if they were led on to fight the pro-British "Free French" forces of General de Gaulle.

Moreover, according to Exchange Telegraph, the British news agency which carried this report, its source said Weygand at his own instance had been relieved of responsibility for the conduct of French ops in Syria.

These things, according to this report, transpired—presumably today at Vichy—in a stormy meeting between Weygand and Vichy's British, pro-collaboration vice-premier, Admiral Jean Darlan.

Commercial sources at Damascus said that Egypt's recent prohibition of trade with Syria—in accord with Britain's declaration that the French mandate is "enemy occupied"—had put Syria at the mercy of British blockade.

Vichy authorities, flatly denying reports that German troops are being sent to Syria, one of two pathways to Suez, have called on loyalists there for an unbending defense of Syria against any British occupation attempt. If the British go in, as they have hinted they will, the ranks are likely to include Free French forces now stationed in Lebanon.

As though each belligerent were waiting for the other to knock the rival chip from his shoulder, meanwhile girding against the day, many, Italy and Britain fanned war in other sectors.

Italian planes last night bombed Britain's mid-Mediterranean base Malta and landed at Britain's barren Tobruk foothold in Libya and troop emplacements near El Barrani, Egypt, guarding the eastern flank of Suez.

German artillery on the invasion coast of France shelled British shipping in the English Channel and the Luftwaffe repeated "especially successful" raids yesterday off Scotland and West coast, resulting in destruction of 20,000 tons.

A number of explosions heard on the English coast and the arrival of Spitfires and Hurricanes told Britons today that the Vichy government was challenging the British over their own occupied zone across the channel. London last night had its first bombing since May 11.

The British occupation of Elba took a spurt with a report that the British had captured a German plane over the English coast and the Omo river, in the southern part of the country, capturing 20,000 prisoners.

British South African troops, shed from their mop-up in Ethiopia, took stations in Egypt for a steadily-developing battle for a Suez Canal, which the British presently still are confident they can hold despite reported German infiltration into Syria.

The South African forces were shed into the defense line to the east, guarding Egypt from the east, but danger loomed steadily from the east as well.

Reports last night from Turkey stated the Germans as sending steady stream of pilots and ground crew men into French-occupied Syria where advance striking bases for the Luftwaffe were to be shaping up at the port of Latakia and inland airfields.

Uncle Sam Borrows Burgess of Ingram

Ingram, June 7.—(P)—Uncle Sam is "borrowing" Burgess John Montgomery Bash—the only Democratic officeholder in this traditionally Republican borough of Allegheny county.

In fact, Bash was once a Republican himself. He ran as a Democrat in 1937 "not that I particularly wanted to, but because the Democrats were anxious to win something in Ingram that year and I thought I could do it." He won out by 43 votes.

While Bash, 34-year-old lawyer, is serving in the army, the Republican council president will serve as acting burgess.

Industry, Long on Production But Facing Transportation Shortage to the Atlantic Seaboard, Seeks New Ways to Funnel Fuel Into East's Motorcars and Machines From Big Producing Fields of Middle West

RELYING HEAVILY ON TANK CARS AND BARGES

By EDWARD CURTIS
Tulsa, Okla., June 7.—(P)—The oil industry, long on production but facing a transportation shortage to the Atlantic seaboard, sought new ways today to funnel fuel into the east's motorcars and machines.

The possibility of a shortage of petroleum and refined products in eastern states became apparent after the government requisitioned 50 tankers for British service.

Secretary Ickes, defense petroleum coordinator, has warned that voluntary curtailment of the use of eastern automobiles for pleasure may be asked within a month to conserve fuel supplies.

About 98 percent of the Atlantic seaboard's supply of oil and refined products arrive by water—approximately 400,000 barrels daily of crude oil and 800,000 barrels daily of gasoline and other refined products.

Loss of the 50 tankers will mean a reduction of 225,000 barrels daily in the flow. Oil executives here, while declining to permit use of their names, generally believed that the fuel situation in the east might become critical.

The president of one company, however, said he believed nobody's going to have to go without gasoline.

"If it wasn't for hysteria and the psychology of war," he asserted, "it would be possible to settle down to real business and solve the situation, providing no more tankers are requisitioned."

LEGION PART IN HOME DEFENSE SETUP OUTLINED

Washington, June 7.—(P)—The American Legion has outlined to President Roosevelt a plan for participation of possibly 1,000,000 World War veterans in the home defense units now being organized throughout the nation.

Milo Warner, Legion national commander, made this known today and at the same time warned against complacency in this country about setting up aircraft warning and air raid precaution services.

"This is a practical working insurance against disaster when it threatens," he said. He added that England was slow in setting up such services at a time when "bombing was considered a joke," but when the raids began it was realized that air raid wardens and fire-fighters "were really the front line boys."

Warner would not disclose the plan pending its study by the chief executive and the Office of Civilian Defense, headed by Mayor Fiorello LaGuardia of New York.

He said more than 700,000 war veterans already had responded to a Legion questionnaire seeking volunteers and listing 67 occupations ranging from able seaman to x-ray operator, in which they could be helpful in a war emergency. He expected this number to reach nearly 1,000,000.

Lists of volunteers will be made up by states and turned over to local defense councils.

The British Square, famed system of defense, shows up in "neutral" Egypt as formed by Alexandria, Cairo, Suez and Port Said. Alexandria, now being visited by German bombers, harbors the eastern Mediterranean fleet at its great base, and is a likely target of an Axis land or air thrust. Cairo is headquarters for the British command and its communications center of the Middle East. Suez and Port Said are both important fleet bases at either end of the Suez Canal, ultimate object of German conquest in this area.

ASSEMBLY RECESSES

Harrisburg, June 7.—(P)—The Republican majority in the senate has completed its study of the state's budget for the next two years and is ready to send its recommendations to the house. Senator L. E. Chapman, chairman of the senate appropriations committee, said.

His committee is holding the $188,000,000 general appropriation bill and the $131,390,000 relief measure—last major items of the $542,000,000 budget to be disposed of.

Senate leaders said the relief bill would be unchanged, so it will not have to return to the house for concurrence in any amendments and thus can go straight to Governor James for his signature. Some changes are contemplated in the general appropriation measure, however, and this likely will have to go to a conference committee for a compromise.

Senator Chapman said he would call the appropriations committee together "sometime" after the legislative session adjourns for which some leaders hoped would be the last week of the 1941 session, which started exactly five months ago.

In addition to the budget, the legislature also has to dispose of an investigation of charges by Senator Anthony J. Cavalcante that there was a "criminal conspiracy" among Democratic leaders and members of the assembly to favor "certain groups" with legislation. The inquiry starts Monday at noon in the hands of a special 10-man committee headed by Senator George Stevenson (R-Clinton).

With the legislature in recess over the week-end, administrative departments of the capitol shared attention with these developments.

The state employment service disclosed it had obtained jobs for 5,200 persons during the week. Further reflecting national deflation, it noted a 14 per cent decrease in unemployment compensation benefits from the previous week.

For the second time this week, state officials reported a shortage of technical help. The Highway Department, working on a $23,500,000 program, said draftsmen, inspectors and engineers are "badly needed" because of the inroads of defense industry and selective service. The department of public instruction said this situation also was creating a shortage of teachers.

Auditor General F. Clair Ross, chairman of the National Defense Committee of the Pennsylvania American Legion, wrote the postmaster-general and congressmen, recommending that members of Detroit, June 7.—(P)—The Detroit News said today that Louis Newsom (Buck) Newsom, 1940 World Series pitching hero of the Detroit Tigers, had been fined $5,000 by owner Walter O. Briggs for "failure to get into proper condition."

Newsom was notified of the fine several days ago, the paper asserted. Two days ago the big right-hander was demoted from starting hurler and assigned to bullpen duty.

The news said the fine equals the highest ever assessed in baseball. Babe Ruth having paid the amount in 1925 when suspended by the New York Yankees for "general misconduct."

The paper said Newsom's present salary of $25,000 is the highest ever paid a pitcher.

Bob Feller Receives Questionnaire Today

Cleveland, June 7.—(P)—Manager Roger Peckinpaugh of the Cleveland Indians believes "it wouldn't be too much out of line" to ask a short deferment if Bob Feller is called into the army in August.

Peckinpaugh made this comment today as the star pitcher received his draft questionnaire and his selective board said he might be inducted in August. Peckinpaugh said any formal request for deferment was up to club officials, however.

"I wouldn't think it would be too much out of line to ask for 30 days" or so deferment if it's near the end of the season," Peckinpaugh commented. Feller himself had said he didn't expect to seek deferment, explaining "everybody has to do his duty, and if they call me I'll do the best I can."

White House Official Authority for Statement That Presidential Proclamation Will Direct Federal Management of CIO. Closed North American Aviation Corp., at Inglewood, Calif., if Agreement is Not Reached

BOMBERS AND COMBAT PLANES ARE HELD UP

INGLEWOOD, Calif., June 7.—(P)—Richard T. Frankenstein, head of the CIO-UAW aviation division, said today a "complete statement of the union's stand" in the North American Aviation Corp. strike could be expected sometime after noon (PST).

Informed that President Roosevelt would order the army to take over the plant Monday unless the walkout was ended, Frankenstein declared: "No comment can be made until the committee meets at noon."

The White House announced today that President Roosevelt would order the taking over by the government of the strike-bound North American Aviation plant at Inglewood, Calif., if the strikers have not agreed among themselves to return to work Monday.

Stephen T. Early, White House press secretary, told reporters the necessary papers were ready for signature for the army to take over the plant and operate it and that the cabinet had unanimously approved such a step late yesterday.

Early said the president had decided to await the outcome of a meeting of the CIO union at the plant tomorrow before putting the order into effect.

The president will leave today on a week-end cruise, returning tomorrow evening or Monday morning.

Early said unless the workers decided by then to return to work the president will sign the order.

Early said the president's action was not a threat nor a big stick to be held over the heads of the workers because he hoped they would settle the dispute peacefully and in orderly fashion themselves.

If Mr. Roosevelt finds it necessary to take the step, it will have been the first such crackdown on work stoppages in essential industries since the defense emergency started.

Should it become necessary for the government to take over the plant, Early said, the army of course would give the workers the right to return to work. He added he did not believe the army would let picket lines stop return of the men.

Efforts to effect an end to the walkout were reported underway in Inglewood but late last night Bill Beckman, a member of the CIO-United Automobile Workers negotiating committee, declared: "We will not go back to work tomorrow. The strike will continue."

The Washington official reported that a presidential proclamation would direct government seizure and management of the big aircraft plant unless production was resumed promptly on $196,000,000 in lumber and pursuit craft orders.

Mr. Roosevelt's patience was "tested and broken" by the action of the United Automobile Workers Union in abruptly forcing the

WILL KIE URGES 'SAFE DELIVERY'

Chicago, June 7.—(P)—Wendell L. Willkie declared last night that America "with the strongest navy in the world and with an increasingly strong air force" can insure "the safe delivery of at least her own production to England."

England cannot survive, he said, unless losses of shipments to Britain "are stopped or greatly reduced"—and at once.

The 1940 Republican presidential nominee, whose address climaxed a Unity Day celebration, spoke to a crowd that filled all 22,500 seats in the Chicago stadium.

Booming delays his speech several minutes. Six women, seized and held in an office while Willkie spoke, were released later. (Turn To Page Five)

Bob Feller Receives Questionnaire Today

Cleveland, June 7.—(P)—Manager Roger Peckinpaugh of the Cleveland Indians believes "it wouldn't be too much out of line" to ask a short deferment if Bob Feller is called into the army in August.

Peckinpaugh made this comment today as the star pitcher received his draft questionnaire and his selective board said he might be inducted in August. Peckinpaugh said any formal request for deferment was up to club officials, however.

"I wouldn't think it would be too much out of line to ask for 30 days' or so deferment if it's near the end of the season," Peckinpaugh commented. Feller himself had said he didn't expect to seek deferment, explaining "everybody has to do his duty, and if they call me I'll do the best I can."

Tradition-Shattering Naval Ceremony Takes Place At New York Docks With Secretary of Navy Knox As Speaker for Both Events

FIRST IN HISTORY

Camden, N. J., June 7.—(P)—A tradition-shattering naval ceremony was arranged for today at the New York shipbuilding yards for launching of a 35,000-ton battleship and the keel laying of a new 10,000-ton cruiser on the same ways only one minute later.

With Secretary of the Navy Knox as the speaker for both events, the first such program in U. S. naval history was planned to illustrate the speed with which United States shipyards are driving to round out the nation's two-ocean navy.

The battleship is the powerful South Dakota, sister ship of the North Carolina and the Washington, commissioned at the Brooklyn Navy Yard, Philadelphia, respectively, within the past two months, the cruiser is the Santa Fe.

FREE MAILING SERVICE IN ARMY IS ADVOCATED

Harrisburg, June 7.—(P)—Auditor-General F. Clair Ross recommended today that free mailing privileges be granted to members of the United States armed forces as a means of bolstering "their morale."

He made the suggestion in letters to Postmaster-General Frank C. Walker and Pennsylvanians in Congress, seeking their support for the plan. Ross is chairman of the National Defense Committee of the Pennsylvania American Legion and is a member of the State Council of Defense.

Boston Physicians Propose to Association That All Liquor Sold Be Labeled as Poison

Cleveland, June 7.—(P)—Three Boston physicians appealed today to the American Medical Association to endorse a proposal to have all liquor labeled as poison.

Domet, quoting what it called responsible sources.

The sources were not identified and the report gave no further details.

Yomiuri, a newspaper with army connections, said army, navy and foreign office officials were scheduled tomorrow to discuss the Indies situation, which is described throughout the Japanese press as "serious."

A Domet, official Japanese news agency, broadcast received in New York quoted the newspaper Nichi Nichi as predicting that Japan's next step might be announced tomorrow after a meeting of Foreign Minister Yosuke Matsuoka and chiefs of the armed services.

Domet said Tokyo newspapers were reporting a break-down in the lengthy negotiations as a result of the Indies' reply.

A Batavia dispatch to Nichi Nichi, it said, reported that Kenichi Yoshizawa, Japan's chief negotiator, was preparing to leave since "his best efforts for an agreement have proved a failure."

Japan's proposals represented her maximum concessions, Domet quoted a Nichi Nichi editorial as saying, and their apparent rejection should be followed swiftly by Japanese action.

This was based on the contention that the Batavia government was relying on backing from Britain and the United States.

World News of the Day Briefly Reviewed

Tokyo, June 7.—(P)—The Japanese government decided today to recognize Croatia, Nazi-created state born of the dissolution of conquered Yugoslavia.

New London, Conn., June 7.—(P)—The United States submarine base announced today that it had investigated and found groundless a report that a submarine was in distress in this vicinity.

Canberra, Australia, June 7.—(P)—An amendment to the national security act gave the Australian government power today to prohibit publication of any newspaper whose editor, printer or publisher has on more than one occasion disregarded a censorship order.

Canberra, Australia, June 7.—(P)—Deputy Prime Minister A. W. Fadden announced today that defense expenditures in the July budget would amount to 250,000,000 pounds ($805,000,000) and added that increased taxation seemed inevitable. He hinted at a system of refunding taxes after the war.

Rome, June 7.—(P)—Budget and military committees of the Fascist chamber approved today an appropriation of 2,500,000,000 lire (approximately $125,000,000) for navy war expenditures.

Vichy, Unoccupied France, June 7.—(P)—General Maxime Weygand, French commander-in-chief in North Africa, who has been in consultation here with the Vichy government's top leaders, left by plane today for Algiers.

GREW SEES NO HOPE FOR PEACE

Tokyo, June 7.—(P)—Joseph C. Grew, United States ambassador to Japan, declared bluntly today a just peace with Germany at this time "is utterly impossible" and that the United States might have to enter the war eventually to preserve the American way of life.

Replying to a group of American church workers who asked him to sign a cable opposing American entry into the war and calling for a "conference for justice, peace, and an equitable world order," the ambassador wrote:

"While I share your hope our country may remain out of the fighting, I believe circumstances may arise when it may become

DEMONSTRATION OF FIRE TRUCK ATTRACTS MANY

Several hundred persons, including fire department heads from at least three neighboring cities, attended a demonstration of Warren's new high pressure and foam truck, held at the north end of the Hickory street bridge last evening.

The truck, which was placed in service at the Central Fire Station this week, was described in detail in Thursday's issue of the Times-Mirror.

Last evening's demonstration consisted of using five hose lines attached to the truck, as well as two turret nozzles and the water curtain, used in getting close to hot fires. Vapor nozzles also were demonstrated on the two turrets.

As an additional feature, the department pumper was attached to a hydrant and a demonstration was given of the height and pressure that could be obtained from the new truck's turret nozzles.

Fire chiefs who attended the demonstration included Andrew Paulson, of Corry; Ed Larkin, of Bradford, and John Valentour, of Kane.

Among the veteran players at the Ohio State in Cleveland were Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Aldrich. Clate Aldrich was president of the American Bridge League in 1930, while Mrs. Aldrich was president of the women's committee in 1928.

I remember a speech Clate made in which he said, "Tournament bridge will become popular because it gives a person the opportunity to make many new friends. Don't get upset if you get a bad score on a board and your partner calls you down, because when you get a bad score you only make your partner angry, but you make two opponents happy."

Don't think, however, you will get a top easily from Aldrich, for he still handles the cards with his old-time keenness.

The opening lead of the jack of diamonds forced the ace. Declarer led a small heart and the king was taken by the ace. West led the nine of diamonds, forcing South to ruff. The queen of hearts was cashed, dropping the jack.

Now North got in with a club to lead a third diamond which was ruffed with the ten of hearts. Another club put North back to cash the nine of hearts picking up East's eight.

Thus Mr. Aldrich won six trump tricks, including the diamond ruffs, and four club tricks.

PLAN MID-YEAR GATHERING FOR U. S. ROUTE SIX

The folder, as in the past year, will combine the three following features: (1) "What to see in Pennsylvania along U. S. 6"; (2) detailed map of the entire eastern section; and (3) map showing the transcontinental route from coast to coast.

The folder will also contain an interesting write-up regarding the route, 10 attractive scenes, and 83 points of special interest to motorists.

President Gleeten in announcing the meeting has urged all communities to send delegations to this very important meeting which besides the regular order of business will consider arousing the entire organization to get back on a program for having U. S. 6 recognized as one of the super highway routes of the country.

All delegations are asked to report on plans for securing additional tourist business and on improvements being made and those recommended for immediate consideration.

powers in war against Germany, but the Vichy government may be brought to that position by extreme pressure.

From a standpoint, Winant was described as believing that Prime Minister Churchill was retaining the full support of a vast majority of the British people, with a consequent continued high level of morale.

Winant, who expects to return to London soon, made no suggestions for changes in the American program of aiding Britain, some of the conferees said. Nor was there any suggestion that the United States was "failing down" in supplying materials and equipment. Rather, these sources added, there was high praise for the effectiveness of American bombers.

Winant was said to have reiterated the assertion of President Roosevelt that the ambassador did not bring peace proposals of any kind.

CLARK JOINS ARMY

The former Golden Gloves Olympic champion is expected to leave in the first contingent in July.

Experts are saying that Fred Haney got a raw deal in the recent St. Louis Browns drama, which saw the management change hands in one act.

They argue that rain offset the pitching schedule of the Browns this year, and a spotty hitting staff was made to look even spottier when such hitters as Rip Radcliff, Walt Judnich and George McQuinn failed to live up to expectations after showing their goods last season.

The financial status of the Browns is far from a happy sight. Things were bad enough for Haney before the Detroit Tigers offered 25,000 potatoes for Rip Radcliff, and the American League entries from Missouri were so hard up they had to accept it.

Now, Harry Grayson, NEA Service sports editor, feels what they should do is oust the Browns from the American loop and the Phillies from the senior circuit, making seven-team leagues. Which doesn't sound so dopey from where we sit.

FRATERNAL AND CITY SOFTBALL LEAGUES OPEN

Mal Johnson, proxy of both the Fraternal and City softball leagues, announced the schedules of both circuits today for the month of June.

The Pittsburgh Pirates captured a doubleheader from the New York Giants 5-4 and 4-3 with Max Butcher spacing six hits for his fourth straight victory in the first game and Truett (Rip) Sewell allowing just five in the nightcap, besides setting a new National League fielding record for pitchers by handling 12 chances flawlessly.

He had 11 assists, three in one inning, tying two records.

Home runs provided the Boston Red Sox with all their scores in a 6-3 decision over the Chicago White Sox. Jim Fox hit one with two on, Ted Williams one with one on and Jim Tabor one with bases empty.

The Detroit Tigers spotted the Washington Senators a seven run lead and then tallied seven times themselves in one frame to win 11-8.

National Forge In Erie for Sunday Go
The National Forge and Ordinance baseball team, which earlier this week cancelled a doubleheader which was to have been played with the Land-Miles All Stars from Endicott, N. Y., at Wilder Field, Erie, will play against the Erie White Sox, highly commendable colored outfit, tomorrow afternoon in Erie.

There was no announcement made today as to the starting battery for the Forge.

RAIN AND MUD CAUSE OF HIGH SCORES IN OPEN

BY WILLIAM T. RIVES
Port Worth, Tex., June 7.—(AP)—Sixty-six weather-sick players, survivors of the worst assault of rain and mud the National Open Golf Championship has seen, crossed their fingers and barged into the grueling 36-hole final today.

In the van were Clayton Heafner, Denny Shute, Lawson Little, the defending champion, and Craig Wood, wearing a polo belt to support his lame back.

They were jammed together at 141 and Johnny Morris had a chance to share the early lead. Johnny, a member of the last threesome to tee off yesterday, stopped at the end of 15 holes at dusk.

He was allowed to complete the round early today, and needed to negotiate the three holes in par to tie with the leaders.

Ten other players were in the wide-open dash to the finish line. Holding 145 were Paul Runyan and Dick Metz, a stroke behind were Johnny Bula, Henry Ransom of Fort Worth, Sammy Snead, J. McSpaden, Herman Barron and Byron Nelson, and at 147 were Gene Sarazen and Lloyd Mangrum.

Still ahead around the first tee were echoes of complaints over the United States Golf Association's order of yesterday to continue play despite a torrent of rain.

Many of the professionals, injured to unfavorable weather conditions, said they never had played a round in a more trying situation.

The U. S. G. A. interrupted play twice, but held him to its 46-year-old tradition that the National Open must be played on scheduled time.

A through fair weather or foul, a few players, quit after battling greens covered with water, hacking around in the moisture-soaked rough and quaking under lightning flashes.

Byron Nelson, who carved out a fine 73 despite the weather, said the course was "the most unplayable I've ever seen."

He matched his opening day 72 to record his 144; Wood had a 71; Denny Shute a 75, and Champion Little a 71.

Baseball society has been pretty low since 1930. Nobody has been accepted in the "400." That year Bill Terry, now be-moaning pilot of the New York Giants, squeezed into the select circle for batters with a .401 average at the plate. Since then things have been quiet up until now. However, this year there are two candidates for the major leagues' batting championship who may go beyond that figure.

Poetmost of these hitters are Ted Williams, of the Boston Red Sox, and Pete Reiser, of the Brooklyn Dodgers. Williams is in his third season with the Sox. He hit .327 in 1939, .344 in '40, and now that he has given up being Boston's Bad Boy and concentrating on the game, his average is soaring much higher. Reiser, who is in his first season in the majors and who promised Larry MacPhail that he would hit every pitcher in the National League, is not having to eat his words, as he leads the senior loop with a .360 percentage. Both of them are left-handed batsmen. Reiser was a switcher until he found that all pitchers looked alike and were comparatively easy, in his opinion, to hit from that side. Experts say "the swing's the thing," and these boys both have terrific power at the plate. So it may not be too long before one of these players, perhaps both, joins Terry and the others who have made it, in baseball's coveted batting honor.

Experts are saying that Fred Haney got a raw deal in the recent St. Louis Browns drama, which saw the management change hands in one act.

Chapter 15
No Place To Go

"PETE had a gun," Anne recalled. "Maybe the men are chasing him."

"Or he, them," grinned Sherwood. "But it doesn't look it according to the condition of the camp."

They regarded each other a bit shyly.

"Well," they left us life," Anne remarked. "And air and water. Let's go get a drink."

It was then Sherwood noticed the scroll lying beside his traveling bag. Anne watched him unfold it, she stared over his shoulder at the strange script.

She looked down at her long, ruffled dress. "I'd better change and have a plunge," she said. "Good idea. He went out and tossed in her bathing suit before closing the tent. She found him working busily with pencil and paper when she appeared."

"Have you deciphered it?" "He shook his head. "I speak this tongue easier than I read it. When she returned he did not look up. She put on the tweeds she had worn the day before and came out and sat down beside him."

Presently he threw the papers down and turned towards her, his face unreadable.

"What have you found out?" she asked, and felt he was debating whether to tell her or not. "A message to me from the Emir," he said at last. "Do you want it?"

"Of course I do." He searched her eyes intently for a moment, then he smiled that special smile of his that always changed the rhythm of her heartbeat. "We've faced death together before, haven't we, Anne?"

Her hand groped for his and clung to it. "What is his message, Blaise?"

Sherwood's eyes turned from hers to the papers between his feet. "The Emir is very frank. He acknowledges his debt to me for saving his life. Had he followed his usual procedure, he assures me, Mackey and I would have died at once and you would have been sent to the slave market. As it is, he gives me a taste of paradise—this castle in the desert—and you, for the length of time it takes us to die from starvation."

"Sent here to starve? I can't believe it," Anne whispered.

"The Emir thought he was giving me Mackey, too. A friend to talk with and a girl to love—what more could any man desire during the final days of his life?"

"But you said he would take no chances on the Nagaras avenging my death."

"Not death—murder. These people make a nice distinction. Taking life as an unsanctified butcher does is murder. Letting people die of hardships or hunger is the will of God."

"How dreadful!" "The Emir warns me that men die of thirst in a very few days on the desert while with hunger, after the initial pangs, he has heard, the suffering is not severe, and one lives much longer."

Sherwood gave Anne a swift, scolding look. "The Emir was talking to me, then he went on tirelessly. The Emir had once hoped to raise an army and conquer the Nagara tribesmen, but Shani Lun and Sunkang discouraged the idea. Now he is negotiating with Russian archaeologists to fulfill the Nagara prophecy—when you can no longer claim the dagger."

Anne remembered the words in her father's last note. "Fulfill the prophecy."

"What is the prophecy?" she asked.

"I have been two years fermenting it out. Your father stumbled on it accidentally. Recently the Emir learned it—I don't know how."

"Tell me," she urged.

"Let's move into the shade first."

"Up under the rock," she suggested. "I'm thirsty again."

"Hungry?" "Not in the least. I'm too stirred up. Food and emotion don't mix."

"Something to be grateful for," he smiled and rose and picked up the small rug. She brought another from the tent.

RAFTSMEN TO MEET
Clarion, June 7.—(AP)—The Northwestern Pennsylvania Raftsmen's Association will hold its annual reunion at Clarion, Forest county, June 21. President H. L. Carson announced Old rivermen will hold a program reminiscent of pioneer days of Pennsylvania's lumbering industry.

THEY STOPPED AT THE FALLS
THERE stopped at the falls and gazed out over the mouth of a trickle of water. "Can you do a good order of business?" "Why doesn't moss grow on the rocks?" "I can't see that the water runs only a few inches deep."

Anne thought occurred to her. "Could we fashion a water bag out of cloth?" "The cloth is made of porous material. Anne, Pete and Don are our only hope."

"I don't see how we can help us," Anne said. "I don't see how we can help us," Anne said. "I don't see how we can help us," Anne said.

"Are you going to cry, Anne?" "No," she said, and a tear rolled down her cheek.

Washington, June 7.—(AP)—Regulation of secret caucuses by Democratic house members Paul H. Gross was asked about political affiliations by Democratic Floor Leader Leo A. Acherman.

Crude Oil Situation Alarming

He suggested a wider use of barges on the Mississippi and Ohio rivers to send oil into the east by inland routes, and the lowering of octane rating of gasoline to "stretch it farther."
Until new pipe lines and tankers become available, the industry must rely on tank cars and barges. Increasing the flow of existing pipelines moving eastward from Oklahoma, Texas and Kansas was possible. Some lines carrying gasoline westward from the eastern refining centers may be reversed and crude oil sent eastward.

The industry has about 150 tankers on order in American shipyards. Six have been delivered and 21 more are expected this year.

There was the possibility also that 23 foreign tankers taken over in western hemisphere ports might be obtained for coastwise service, and that tankers now on the Pacific coast would be transferred to Atlantic service.

Two $70,000,000 pipe lines from Texas to New York, one for crude oil and one for gasoline, each doing the work of 50 to 65 tankers, have been proposed, but they would require more than a year to construct.

Workers in 'Frisco

Factory Are Given

Until Monday to Act

Idleness of 11,800 workers Thursday while the Defense Mediation Board was striving to settle the wage dispute, said the informant. North American Aviation holds orders for bombers and other types of combat planes for both the United States and Great Britain.

The official informant did not disclose the legal authority upon which the president could base his proclamation other than to say it involved the recent declaration of an unlimited emergency. He added that the president had received assurances from his legal advisors that there was no question that he had the power to act.

Meanwhile, the labor policy advisory committee of the OPM, made up of 16 AFL, CIO and railway labor leaders, "condemned and denounced" yesterday the "big three" machinists' tie-up of 11 San Francisco Bay shipbuilding yards, the CIO International Woodworkers of America strike in 25 Pacific northwest lumber operations, and the North American walkout.

And in congress, a drastic anti-strike amendment forced delay in house consideration of the $10,000,000,000 military appropriations bill.

Together the two coal disputes involve about two-thirds of the 52,800 defense workers idle in strategic plants throughout the nation.

There were guarded hints, at a meeting of southern Appalachian soft coal operators in White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., yesterday, that the Defense Mediation Board's proposal for a uniform 37 wage throughout the seven-state bituminous industry would be accepted.

Crude Oil Situation Alarming
He suggested a wider use of barges on the Mississippi and Ohio rivers to send oil into the east by inland routes, and the lowering of octane rating of gasoline to "stretch it farther."

Until new pipe lines and tankers become available, the industry must rely on tank cars and barges. Increasing the flow of existing pipelines moving eastward from Oklahoma, Texas and Kansas was possible. Some lines carrying gasoline westward from the eastern refining centers may be reversed and crude oil sent eastward.

The industry has about 150 tankers on order in American shipyards. Six have been delivered and 21 more are expected this year.

There was the possibility also that 23 foreign tankers taken over in western hemisphere ports might be obtained for coastwise service, and that tankers now on the Pacific coast would be transferred to Atlantic service.

Two $70,000,000 pipe lines from Texas to New York, one for crude oil and one for gasoline, each doing the work of 50 to 65 tankers, have been proposed, but they would require more than a year to construct.

MAKE PLANS TO OBSERVE FLAG DAY JUNE 13TH

With Flag Day just a week away, plans are going forward for one of the most outstanding celebrations of the event ever held in Warren. It was stated today by members of the committee of Warren Lodge, No. 228, B. P. O. Elks, which is in charge of the program.

Because Flag Day falls on Saturday, this year's celebration will be held on Friday evening, June 13.

Plans call for a parade as well as the usual exercises from the verandah of the Elks Home. Local patriotic organizations will join with the Elks in staging the program.

Donald E. McComas, chairman of the Elks' Flag Day committee, has been named grand marshal for the parade, which is scheduled to form at 7:15 o'clock in Fourth avenue, near the Elks' Home. Ben Kinnear will serve as chief of staff.

Musical organizations which will add to the color of the parade are the Veterans of Foreign Wars Band, the Warren High School Band and the American Legion Drum Corps.

The tentative parade route will be from the starting point in Fourth avenue east to Market street, south to Pennsylvania avenue, west to Hickory street and back to the Elks Home, where the formal program will start at eight o'clock.

It is expected that the marshal and his staff will announce the parade formation early next week.

LANDER SENIOR CLASS WILL GO TO WASHINGTON

Lander, June 7.—Richard Beck, president of the high school class of 1941, has announced that class members will enjoy a sight-seeing trip to Washington, D. C., starting on Monday.

The Santoro orchestra provided special music and Rev. D. D. Samuelson gave the invocation and benediction. The salutatory was delivered by Elaine Stanton and the valedictory by Leah Rowland. Herbert Harris, principal of Beatty school in Warren, gave the commencement address, and Herman Reed, local principal, presented diplomas to the graduates.

The Class Night program was given in the community house on Monday evening, with instrumental music furnished by Mrs. Eleanor Ludwick and the class play, "The Early Worm," given by the following cast: James Miller, Priscilla Knapp, Richard Beck, Ronald Parker, Ruby Beck and Charlotte Clark. The class roll was given by Lyle McIntyre; class history by Joseph Baroni; class prophecy by Priscilla Knapp; class poem, by James Miller; class donor, Richard Beck; class will, by Robert Anderson. The program closed with a musical selection by Doris Nelson.

There was a large audience of relatives and friends of the seniors in attendance at the baccalaureate service held in the church last Sunday evening, when Rev. Samuelson spoke on "What Is the Value of Spoken?" The service began with a procession of the class and faculty, with Mrs. Ludwick at the piano. The seated junior choir occupied choir seats and gave two special selections.

Circus Day in the Offing! Old Thrills in New Setting

Circus is coming! Heralding the season's gayest holiday is the announcement that Russell Bros. Greater American Circus will exhibit at the Old Brewery Circus Grounds, Warren, Monday, June 9. With a brilliant array of sensational new features, two performances will be presented, afternoon and night, under Russell Bros., beautifully restyled big top of green canvas—a color that is at once cooling and restful to the eyes.

Among the headliners are the world famous Clarke family of bareback riders, starring Miss Ernestine, "sweetheart of the equestrian world"; the Four Aces, Latin American wizards of the light wire; Walter Jenner's marvelous trained seal exhibition featuring Buddy, the most highly educated seal lion of all time; Miss Aerielletta, America's foremost feminine aerial gymnast; the Flying Clarksons, the Aerial Brooks, and many others.

In the process of modernization, the Russell Bros. management has faithfully retained all of circus-don'ts cherished and time-honored traditions, endowing them with new ideas of presentation and lighting, a spilted fast-moving tempo, and a modern musical setting under the lively baton of Eddie Woekener, most colorful of all circus bandmasters.

The wild animal displays have been materially enlarged and augmented. Doors open at 1 and 7 p. m. to allow ample time to tour the menagerie before the big show starts at 2 and 8.

SCHOOL CLOSES AT SHEFFIELD WITH EXERCISES

Sheffield, June 6.—The 1940-41 school term in Sheffield township schools ended Thursday morning following an hour-long session in each building during which time textbooks and supplies were turned in and students received their report cards.

The closing day sessions were preceded Wednesday evening by Washington grade school's promotion exercises, final formal event in the series of end-of-term ceremonies conducted here this week.

The exercises Wednesday were held in the high school auditorium and featured a very pretty and ably presented operetta, "The Golden Whistle". Approximately 100 students participated in the presentation.

Other outstanding features of the program were the presentation of promotion certificates to the 35 members of the eighth grade and awarding of the American Legion medal. The certificates were presented by L. B. Jones, secretary of the school board, who was introduced by D. J. Howard, principal of Washington school.

The winner of the American Legion medal was Charles C. Slater, 13-year-old son of Constable and Mrs. Charles W. Slater. Frank M. Glendenning Post, American Legion, was the donor, and the presentation was by Ruland Russ, post commandant.

R. W. Gittings, school music supervisor and organizer and director of the Washington School Band, was presented a handsome leather travel bag, a gift of the band. It was presented by Billy Rice.

Opening the program was the procession, the music for which was played by the band. Following, in order, were the following numbers: clarinet solo, Charles Shick; vocal number, Eighth Grade Chorus; saxophone solo, Rose Konestoba; march, School Band; operetta, "The Golden Whistle"; presentation of Legion award; presentation of certificates.

An added and very delightful program number was the appearance of little Miss Annette Davidson, 5-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Davidson, as a vocal soloist. She sang "The Spider and the Fly" and "Roll out the Barrel", answering the audience's enthusiastic acclaim with an encore rendition of the first number.

The eighth grade students who received diplomas were: Benjamin L. Allen Jr., Shirley J. Askey, Jean M. Cederlof, Charles Christian, Mary Katherine Daniels, Helen Delman, Betty Jean Farley, Dorothy Ruth Farley, Joseph J. Gronick, Ruth C. Gustafson, Ethel Elizabeth Hahn, Helen L. This is one matter that should not be put off until "tomorrow"—it is far too important for that. Come in and talk it over with us without delay.

MAKE PLANS TO OBSERVE FLAG DAY JUNE 13TH

With Flag Day just a week away, plans are going forward for one of the most outstanding celebrations of the event ever held in Warren, it was stated today by members of the committee of Warren Lodge, No. 223, B. P. O. Elks, which is in charge of the program.

Because Flag Day falls on Saturday, this year's celebration will be held on Friday evening, June 13.

Plans call for a parade as well as the usual exercises from the verandah of the Elks Home. Local patriotic organizations will join with the Elks in staging the program.

Donald E. McComas, chairman of the Elks' Flag Day committee, has been named grand marshal for the parade, which is scheduled to form at 7:15 o'clock in Fourth avenue, near the Elks' Home. Ben Kinnear will serve as chief of staff.

Musical organizations which will add to the color of the parade are the Veterans of Foreign Wars Band, the Warren High School Band and the American Legion Drum Corps.

The tentative parade route will be from the starting point in Fourth avenue east to Market street, south to Pennsylvania avenue, west to Hickory street and back to the Elks Home, where the formal program will start at eight o'clock.

It is expected that the marshal and his staff will announce the parade formation early next week.

LANDER SENIOR CLASS WILL GO TO WASHINGTON

Lander, June 7.—Richard Beck, president of the high school class of 1941, has announced that class members will enjoy a sight-seeing trip to Washington, D. C., starting on Monday.

Various events held this past week have concluded the school calendar for this term, with commencement exercises held Wednesday night in the Methodist church auditorium. The Santoro orchestra provided special music and Rev. D. D. Samuelson gave the invocation and benediction. The salutatory was delivered by Elaine Stanton and the valedictory by Leah Rowland. Herbert Harris, principal of Beatty school in Warren, gave the commencement address, and Herman Reed, local principal, presented diplomas to the graduates.

The Class Night program was given in the community house on Monday evening, with instrumental music furnished by Mrs. Eleanor Ludwick, and the class play, "The Early Worm," given by the following cast: James Miller, Priscilla Knapp, Richard Beck, Ronald Parker, Ruby Beck and Charlotte Clark. The class roll was given by Lyle McIntyre; class history by Joseph Baron; class prophecy, by Priscilla Knapp; class poem, by James Miller; class drama, by Robert Anderson. The program closed with a musical selection by Doris Nelson.

There was a large audience of relatives and friends of the seniors in attendance at the baccalaureate service held in the church last Sunday evening, when Rev. Samuelson spoke on "What Is the Value of Culture?" The service began with a procession of the class and faculty, with Mrs. Ludwick at the piano. The robed junior choir occupied their seats and gave two special selections.

Sailor Beware . . . You'll Be Wearing These

When these new-type lifesaving suits for seamen were demonstrated in New York, pretty girls were on hand to brighten the pictures, which show sailors and models floating with the rubber suits on and models Barbara Orr and Mary Elizabeth Tommer tightening them up. Besides floating men overboard, suits protect sailors from wet and cold when they're on shipwreck.

Circus Day in the Offing! Old Thrills in New Setting

With a brilliant array of sensational new features, two performances will be presented, afternoon and night, under Russell Bros., beautifully restyled big top of green canvas—a color that is at once cooling and restful to the eyes.

Among the headliners are the world famous Clarke family of bareback riders, starring Miss Ernestine, "sweetheart of the equestrian world"; the Four Acavados, Latin American wizards of the tight wire; Walter Jenner's marvelous trained seal exhibition featuring Buddy, the most highly educated sea lion of all time; Miss Aerielita, America's foremost feminine aerial gymnast; the Flying Clarksons, the Aerial Brooks, and many others.

In the process of modernization, the Russell Bros. management has faithfully retained all of circusdom's cherished and time-honored traditions, endowing them with new ideas of presentation and lighting, a spirited fast-moving tempo, and a modern musical setting under the lively baton of Eddie Woekener, most colorful of all circus bandmasters.

The wild animal displays have been materially enlarged and augmented. Doors open at 1 and 7 p. m. to allow ample time to tour the menagerie before the big show starts at 2 and 8.
